

PRESS PHOTO

LONG BIO

Reece Brett is the "energizer bunny" of writers. When she is not working on her latest novel, she is sharing writing ideas with other writers, or hosting a radio program about writing.

Her latest novel, IF YOU DARE, a sizzling summer read, was released June 6, 2011 by Lyrical Press, Inc. Reece finds creating the interactions between characters both challenging. The dynamics between characters is the most fun to write for the author.

She enjoys sharing her writing interest and is a guest speaker at area colleges, local schools and for writing organizations. She is a member of an area group, Writing Community at Bogart's. Discussing what inspires writers, what challenges writers face and sharing a writer's experience with others is exhilarating.

On her radio program, REECE WRITES, she interviews authors, provides writer's prompts and d talks about the writer's journey from idea to publication. The show airs the first Monday of each month on WSNJ 1210 AM or can be listened to on WSNJ.com Listeners may comment or ask questions by calling 856-

She also hosts REECE READS on the first Wednesday 2:30-3:00pm to review books, discuss ideas with reading groups and offer reading suggestions. Listeners to WSNJ 1210 AM or WSNJ.com may call in questions or comments 856-

Her great love is her yours, mine and ours family of six children. The family has expanded to include three sons-in-law and three grandchildren. Although she and her husband enjoy the chaos and craziness which comes with a large family, they do seek peace and quiet. They kayak the rivers and lakes of South Jersey and kayak the coastal waterways of Maine.

Reece is blessed with her own romantic hero. She thinks romance is possible and love

Follow Reece's writing journey, share ideas about gardening , kayaking and families on her blog, reece@reecebrett.com/blog2/ Read excerpts and reviews on her website www.reecebrett.com. Readers may contact Reece on her blog, on Facebook or email her reece@reecebrett.com.